When I was about ten years old, my brother and I were getting ready to ~~get~~ go out on our fourwheelers, for a ride in the desert.

My brother went and filled the tanks with gas, so he thought. When he finish filling the tanks he saw that he but diesel in one of the tanks. So we found found an old hose, and cut off the ends, so we could siphon the diesel out of the tank.

When we ~~trained~~ drained the diesel out of the tank, we thought that we would burn the diesel, so that we want get in trouble, so we ~~burn~~ grabbed the hose, turned ~~on~~ the it on, incase the fire got out of hand. My brother ~~tight~~ light the match and through it on the diesel. As soon as the diesel light there was a flame as high, as our shed roof.

My ~~oldest~~ sister come running out of the house ready to call 911, but my brother and I got the flame, by spraying it with the hose.

When my ~~mom and dad~~ parents got home, they saw that there was a big brown spot by the shed. They ask my brother and I what happen, so we told them.

That was the most trouble I have ever been in, in my hole life.

That incident will stick with me for the rest of my life.
because I almost burnt down our shed, and I was only ten years old.

I also learned a valuable lesson, which is to what till your ~~parent~~ parents get home before doing something that you can't do. ~~Also to what~~ Not to burn something with out them knowing.
